Solar Power

Mattapoisett Couple is Going Green

By Robert Chiarito

There are as many ways to go green as there are people it seems. Going green means a lot of different things to each of us. For some it means recycling as much as possible, while for others it means turning down the thermostat so, as I overheard one woman saying as she was leaving the grocery this past weekend, "I keep my house turned down to 60 these days and put on a sweater. No oil barons are getting rich off me." For others it means planting trees to offset their carbon footprint. The list is as fascinating as it is endless.

For a local Mattapoisett couple the move towards a green sources of energy meant taking a very big step. The Aiello family of Tinkham Hill Road recently installed solar panels on the roof of their home. The panels will help to provide their home with electricity and, on occasion, will also send excess power back into the area electrical grid.

The Aiellos — Louie and Pat — researched the project for several years before they made the leap to install their new solar panels.

"We have thought about doing this for years," Ms. Aiello said. "Our house has a perfect southern exposure on the back that is just right for solar power. The system is a 5K system that is designed to provide 500 kilowatts of power per month, depending on the weather.

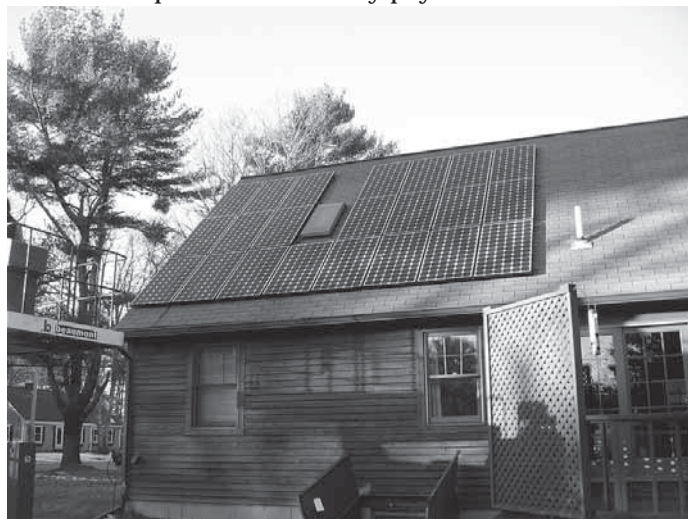

The Aiellos made a large initial investment of which Mr. Aiello said, "Writing those first few checks made us swallow pretty hard, but knowing that we would get most of the money back over time made it a lot easier."

The panels will actually pay for themselves in

The ORR chapter of AFS will be holding a fund-raising phone-a-thon this weekend to raise money to offset program expenses.

The show was a benefit for the YMCA's Annual Scholarship Fund. Pictured here, from left, are Toe Jam co-founder and member Tom Poitras, Mattapoisett YMCA Executive Director Tricia Driscoll, and Toe Jam co-founder and member Vinny Lovegrove. The group will also be performing this Saturday, January 24 at 2:00 pm in the gym at Center School in Mattapoisett in a fund-raiser for the Project GROW Parents' Group. (Photo by Robert Chiarito).

just over two years' time. The couple will receive both federal and state tax credits as well as grant monies from the Massachusetts Technology Collaborative and NStar set aside for green projects. "The rebates will make our out-of-pocket costs less than $4,000 and the savings to our electric bills will make the system pay for itself in about 27 months," Ms. Aiello said.

Solar power may well be one of the forces that turns the tide in our attempts as a nation to become energy independent. For many homeowners, wind power on a private level is just not possible due to local regulations and space limitations. In many cases solar power is more efficient than wind power as it only requires a sunny day to operate. Winter months, with their lower humidity, are months where a system such as the Aiello's works most efficiently.

The Aiellos installed the system during the last months of fall but waited until this past weekend to turn it on so that they could take advantage of new regulations in the federal tax code that went into effect this year. Longtime advocates of alternative power, the Aiellos have long heated their North Mattapoisett home with a cast iron wood-burning stove. The stove keeps their home toasty warm during the coldest New England nights and it is a rare occasion that calls for the family to turn their furnace on.

Aside from the benefits that green technologies provide the planet in general, it is becoming part of the national conversation that such power is also a benefit to our national security and our economy as we depend less on oil, thus sending much of our wealth overseas. This thought was invoked during President Barack Obama's inaugural address as he said, "We will harvest the wind and the sun to power our homes and our cars and our factories." Only time will tell how green technologies will work to transform the nation and the world over the next several years.

Missing Rochester Girl Safe

Rochester Police have located a 14-year-old girl who went missing from Rochester on Thursday morning, January 15.

Elizabeth Cappello, a white female, approximately 5 feet tall, 105 pounds with brown eyes and straight dark brown hair, was reported missing on Thursday morning around 5:30 am. A witness stated Ms. Cappello might have gotten into a dark blue or black-colored car, possibly a Pontiac, on County Road in the area of High Street around 12:15 am on Thursday.

Police and family made contact with a female friend Ms. Cappello was with and arranged for her return. She was reunited with her family at McDonalds in Middleboro on Friday afternoon. An investigation into the incident is ongoing, according to Rochester Police Chief Paul Magee.

ORR's Exchange Program Calls for Help

By Kenneth J. Souza

The Old Rochester Regional High School chapter of the American Field Service (AFS) will be holding a phone-a-thon to support the school's foreign exchange student program. The students will be manning the phone banks this coming weekend on Saturday, January 24 and Sunday, January 25 to solicit donations for the program's general scholarship fund.

With five foreign exchange students and one visiting teacher at ORR this year, the need for funding is greater than ever, according to AFS organizer Jessica Noblet.

"AFS has been around for a long time," Ms. Noblet said. "ORR became involved in the program in the mid-1970s. There are about 35 ORR students involved in the AFS club."

Ms. Noblet said they plan to have about ten students making calls each day over the weekend between the hours of 10:00 am and 3:00 pm soliciting donations to support the AFS effort. As the organization's only major fund-raising event, they hope to raise money to support the five host students and visiting teacher at ORR this year: Omar Moham Emara from Egypt; Baris Yenigun from Turkey; Orapan Sonmnuwat from Thailand; Coralie Claude Thonnard from Belgium; Carlos Reyes from Columbia; and teacher Kasem (Arboo) Yangning Thailand.

"The AFS is the world's largest student exchange program, with a history dating back to the years following World War I, when the ambulance drivers, horrified by the effects of the war, started the exchange between Germany and the United States as a means to promote a more peaceful world," Ms. Noblet said.

AFS has been exchanging students throughout the world for 60 years. That's six decades of history and experience in international education with an exemplary record of safety, security, and service to students, parents and educators.

AFS works toward a more just and peaceful world by providing international and intercultural learning experiences to individuals, families, schools, and communities through a global volunteer partnership.

Monies raised from this weekend's donation drive will go towards the chapter's general scholarship fund that helps to offset some of the hidden costs of being an exchange student such as student field trips and other minor expenses. Students, along with several adult supervisor/volunteers, will be involved in the phone-a-thon fundraiser. Money raised this weekend will also help ORR exchange students who travel abroad to offset some of their costs as well.

Ms. Noblet hopes they'll be able to catch people at home this weekend, especially after last year's disappointing results.

"Last year we did it during one of those beautiful, warm January weekends and no one was home," Ms. Noblet said. "We made calls and no one was around! So we're hoping people will be home this weekend."

If you do not receive a phone call during the weekend phone-a-thon and wish to contribute to the AFS, please mail your contribution, payable to "AFS Parent Club at ORRHS" to AFS, Old Rochester Regional High Isaacson presented the results of their independent study projects at the third annual conference on Interdisciplinary Women's Studies. The two students were part of a session titled "Women Finding Their Own Voice" and presented a comparison of the advancement of women in Argentine politics and the advancement of women in U.S. politics. Both the conference and the presentation were in Spanish.

"We chose to focus our research on gender roles, politics and history — especially the implications of the 'Dirty War' on Argentine society — and class divides through observations, research, and field work," Ms. Kelly said.

"Because of the topic of our studies, we were selected by a Spanish teacher at Universidad Nacional de CUYO to participate in the conference in order to share with Argentine peers and professors our perception of gender roles here in Argentina as students abroad, as well as our personal experience with gender roles in the United States," she added.

Kelly and Isaacson began organizing and researching their independent study projects at the end of last spring semester. They have since further explored the Argentine women's culture by reading about the society and through their own observations and personal interviews conducted while in Argentina.

"The Argentine people we have interviewed have been very accommodating in providing for us information and thoughts on the subject," Ms. Kelly said.

"Speaking in Spanish was definitely a challenging aspect to our presentation, but we were greatly aided by the professors we have met at Cuyo as well as by Associate Professor of Religious Studies Richard Salter and his wife, Lisa," Ms. Kelly explained. "Although intimidating at first, presenting in Spanish was not as difficult as we initially thought. The audience was friendly and showed great interest in listening to new cultural perspectives."

"I really can't emphasize enough what a tremendous accomplishment this was," Professor Salter said. "Not only was this a presentation at a professional conference, but it was in Spanish — a language Julie and Emma are currently studying."

Ms. Isaacson is a sociology major who minors in international relations and Latin American studies. She is a member of William Smith Congress, the Judicial Board, the Sexual Harassment and Grievance Board, was First-Year and Sophomore Class President and is a Writing Colleague at CTL.

senior class is being measured for their graduation gowns. A table has been set up inside the cafeteria where a representative from Balfour is collecting the cap and gown fee of $20. This has come as quite a reality shock for myself, as well as the other students of this grade. It seems like only yesterday we were entering our freshman year together, finding ourselves lost inside what was then a foreign place to us. Now, after finally growing comfortable in our surroundings, it is already time to get ready to end our high school years.

Tuesday, January 20 was an exciting day at the high school as it was the Inauguration Day of the new United States president. Many of the students attending ORR seemed satisfied with the results of the election and the fate of the next man who has come into office, Barack Obama. Earlier in the school year, the administration held a mock election in order for students to experience as close to a real ballot process as possible. A great majority of voters at the high school showed their democratic beliefs by voting for Obama.

On the 2009 Inauguration Day, despite the percentage of people who had indeed rooted for John McCain, everyone illustrated a positive attitude towards the event. With our different political beliefs put aside, we were all able to realize that this inauguration day was a historic stepping stone for the United States of America. American Flags were hung upon doorways, while some classrooms kept their TVs on the news coverage all throughout the day. The administration also agreed to allow students to gather together in the cafeteria between 11:00 am and 1:00 pm to watch the speeches made by newly-elected president Barack Obama, as well as vice president Joe Biden.

Each year students are touched by teachers from whom they have had the honor of learning. Everyday comments echo down the hallways proving this statement to be true. They include statements such as, "He's the best history teacher I've ever had" and "She actually makes me interested in English." It is much too often that these exceptional behaviors and educational skills go unacknowledged. Now, both the students and staff at ORR High School have the opportunity to nominate an educator of their choice for the 2009-2010 Massachusetts Teacher of the Year. According to the program in charge, the Teacher of the Year should be one who demonstrates "professionalism, leadership, excellent communication skills, and an outstanding and measurable commitment to student achievement and to the teaching profession."

Anyone, including administrators, teachers, parents, students and/or community members, can make a nomination. In order to do so, a letter must be sent to the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education by Tuesday, February 3. This letter must include the first and last names of the teacher being nominated, the name and address of the teacher's school, a statement explaining why they deserve this recognition, as well as the name

Marion Selectmen's Meeting

January 20, 2009

By Kenneth J. Souza

A regular meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen was called to order in the Marion Town House on Tuesday, January 20 at 7:00 pm by Chairman Jonathan Henry. Also present were Selectman Roger Blanchette, Selectman Stephen Cushing, Town Administrator Paul Dawson and Secretary Helene Craver.

The board first approved the minutes of the January 6 and January 16 meetings, then met with former Selectman Andrew "Drew" Jeffrey and Steve Grima to request the board reappoint a Marion 2015 oversight committee.

"One of the things we don't want to do is reexamine what's already been done ... our job is to help move it forward," Mr. Jeffrey said. "Certainly some of the recommendations made — there were like 59 of them — have been implemented, but there's still a lot that needs to be done. Based on the economic situation we're in, I think we realize it can't be status quo anymore. We already have this report that's been done and we need to get it implemented."

Mr. Jeffrey noted a lot of the suggestions contained in the Marion 2015 report were pretty general and he hopes they can break those down and assign them to the appropriate board or committee for implementation.

"I think one of the things we'd certainly welcome would be a representative from the Board of Selectmen," Mr. Jeffrey said. "If this is approved, within 30 days we'd like to come back with some specific recommendations."

"Some of these recommendations require a lot of money ... I think this is something that needs to be addressed carefully," Selectman Blanchette said. "It's nice to say this is pie in the sky, but we can't afford it."

"It's about financial relief," Mr. Grima said. "Really, when we break down these 59 suggestions, we're looking at doing things that are cost-effective. That's the goal. We're not talking about taking on all 59 items at one time, we're talking about prioritizing them, little pieces at a time."

Chairman Henry supported the idea to appoint a representative from the Board of Selectmen.

"I don't agree with this at all," Selectman Blanchette said. "I'm thinking we'd be better off remaining objective until the recommendations are brought before us."

"I would support what (Mr. Jeffrey) has recommended," Selectman Cushing said. "We can always change gears later on if we need to."

With that, the board unanimously voted to appoint a Marion 2015 Oversight Committee consisting of the following nine members, for a period of one year: Da-

At 7:20 pm the board met with David Davignon of Schneider Associates and Department of Public Works (DPW) Superintendant Rob Zora to discuss possible sewer connections at 135 Converse Road.

"We're coming before you to request that you lift the moratorium on sewer tie-ins for the property," Mr. Davignon said. "There are five homes, all on one lot ... and the owner intends to subdivide the property to create two additional lots."

Mr. Davignon said it is his understanding there are three stubs already available in the road to allow sewer connections and he is seeking permission to add a fourth.

"Each of the three lots has one sewer stub," Mr. Dawson said. "It is unclear to me how one lot with five residential structures on it has only one sewer stub. So it presents a myriad of issues. Obviously we have the issue of the moratorium and the betterment charges are based on the number of houses, not the number of sewer stubs."

"Right now there's just three stubs there," Mr. Zora said. "At the time, that was sufficient for the amount of land. Can the sewer line handle it? I believe it can. Can you allow them to tie in now? We have a moratorium in place — that's a huge hurdle. Can the plant handle the strength of the additional tie-ins? Yes. Can we handle the flow? No. I don't want to see a good project stopped, but we have an I&I problem that needs to be rectified. We're facing the potential 40B project that's out there looming. I can't see allowing any more capacity coming in until we get a handle on the I&I."

Mr. Zora said the additional infiltration and inflow (I&I) going into the sewer system from sources such as groundwater and unauthorized drains and sump pumps is maxing out their permitted capacity at the wastewater treatment plant for up to eight months out of the year.

"But they can tie into some of the houses now," Selectman Blanchette said. "They have three available connections. So three of the four lots could be tied into the sewer."

"I strongly recommend that the board take this under advisement," Mr. Dawson said. "My understanding is that we have applied the rule of four bedrooms by right, with the option of adding a fifth bedroom with permission."

With that, the board voted to take this matter under advisement and to obtain a written opinion from Town Counsel as to whether or not these additional connections would be permitted under the town's existing sewer regulations.

"I'm looking at the plant capacity right now," Mr. Zora said. "Right now the infiltration goes out to the ponds at the treatment facility. I'm going to tell you, I&I is a huge problem we've been ducking for years."

"I think it's important that we adhere strictly to the I&I issue," Selectman Cushing said.

In other matters, the board:

- Appointed Ray E. Pickles to the Senior Center Study Committee.
- Appointed Bruce Hebbel to fill a vacancy on the Conservation Commission (ConCom) in the wake of Joel D. Hartley's resignation.
- Authorized an additional spending allocation of $20,000 for the DPW to cover recent snow and ice removal efforts.

DOGS AND PICKUP TRUCKS

My dog loves to ride in the cargo area of our pickup truck. He is a big dog with a heavy coat. My question is how cold is too cold to let him travel in the back?

I fear that you may be worried about garter snakes in a rattle snake pit. Hundreds of dogs die annually from jumps from pickup truck cargo beds. Dogs see another dog and want to play, they lean over the edge too far or are thrown out during an emergency avoidance maneuver or accident. Fractured legs are also common.

If you must keep the dog in the cargo bed consider a cap. It will provide safety from jumping as well as windchill.

The temperature that can be tolerated by any specific dog varies massively and depends to a large degree on acclimation. A dog that is kept outdoors in a dog house will be able to stand much colder conditions for longer than a housepet.

lus package for "shovel-ready" projects. He said he managed to find seven potential projects totaling some $11.168 million for which he has applied for funding under the program.

Mr. Dawson also noted Governor Deval Patrick has been given the authority to cut additional funds from the current fiscal year budget and may reduce these monies by up to 10 percent by June. "It's critical to us to get this information sooner rather than later," he said.

Under correspondence, the board received a letter from Lawrence Dorman regarding a dog biting incident on December 28. As such, the board agreed to schedule a dog hearing during their next regular meeting on Tuesday, February 3 at 7:00 pm.

The board was also presented with the proposed FY 2010 Mattapoissett River Valley Water District budget totaling $1.8 million — $252,304 of which is being assessed to the Town of Marion.

Chairman Henry noted the untimely passing of Marion resident John DePina, Sr., who died just shortly after his wife.

"It's a great loss for the DePina family to lose both their mother and father in a short period of time," Chairman Henry said.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 9:01 pm.

Rochester Fire Grant

The Rochester Fire Department was awarded a $275,000 federal homeland security grant to purchase a new rescue pumper. Last Friday, $43 million in Assistance to Firefighter Grants (AFG) was awarded to 410 fire departments within the United States.

This was the twentieth round of FY 2008 grants awarded by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). The goal of the AFG program is to meet the firefighting and emergency response needs of fire departments and non-affiliated emergency medical services organizations.

Since 2001, AFG has helped firefighters and other first responders to obtain critically needed equipment, protective gear, emergency vehicles, training, and other resources needed to protect the public and emergency personnel from fire and related hazards. The Grant Programs Directorate of the Federal Emergency Management Agency administers the grants in cooperation with the U.S. Fire Administration. For fiscal year 2005, Congress reauthorized the Assistance to Firefighters Grants for an additional five years through 2010.

The new vehicle will replace a 1976 pumper and a 1981 rescue van.

"It's another win-win," said Fire Chief Scott Ashworth. "This will save taxpayers money by consolidating equipment and eliminating a vehicle to insure and maintain. We have been very fortunate to have received several federal grants for equipment."

ORR Students in Play

A.R. Gurney's warm-hearted, gently humorous memory play What I Did Last Summer, the third major production of Your Theatre, Inc.'s 62nd season, is now in the midst of a nine-performance run. Directed by Robin Richard of New Bedford, the play runs Wednesdays through Saturdays January 22 to 24 and January 28 to 31, 2009, with a matinee Sunday, January 25. Curtain time is 8:00 pm for all shows, except the 3:00 pm Sunday matinee.

The cast for What I Did Last Summer features Lucy Bly and Shannon E. Gracia of New Bedford, Holly Cardoza and Matt Kaloplastos of Mattapoisett, Spencer H. Johnson of Marion, Tyler Rowe of Dartmouth and Margo Wilson-Beauregard of Fairhaven. Scenic design is by Edward J. Maguire of Fairhaven, lighting design by Lawrence R. Houbre, Jr. of New Bedford, with Gil Cardona-Eraza of New Bedford as Stage Manager.

The play looks at life on the home front during the waning days of World War II. In the summer of 1945, while his father is stationed in the Pacific, 14 year-old Charlie and his family head to their summer home in an effort to keep some normalcy in their lives. While there, he rebels against his mother and finds himself under the tutelage of "the Pig Woman," the town misfit, who tries to help him find his potential while pointing out the foibles of upper middle class society, of which they are all products. However society does not give up one of its own without a fight — as more than one person finds out.

For non-subscribers, ticket prices are $12 for Wednesday, Thursday, or Sunday performances, $14

Mattapoisett Book Collection

Looking to get rid of your used books? The Mattapoisett Transfer Station is now accepting new and used books, CDs, DVDs, videos, and audio books. The town has placed a drop-off donation container for area residents, who wish to contribute new and gently used books they no longer have a use for and would like to see repurposed.

The gray book donation container, distinguished by its lively purple and yellow signs, is conveniently located at the Transfer Station at 100 Tinkham Hill Road. Donations may be made by residents of Mattapoisett, Fairhaven, and Rochester every Thursday and Friday from 9:00 am to 3:00 pm and Saturday from 8:00 am to 3:00 pm.

Choose to reuse! Donating books at this location is a great way to keep books out of the trash. In addition, these donated goods will be repurposed in great ways; they could be donated to schools, libraries, and other groups in need, sent overseas to the troops, given to teachers for their classrooms, or sold in book sales and online.

Music Students from both ORR Junior and Senior High School will be delivering the subs within the tri-towns on Super Bowl Sunday, February 1, between 12:00 noon and 4:00 pm.

James Farmer, band director at Old Rochester Regional Junior High, originally got the idea from another director and he has seen his share of subs through the years.

"It is amazing that this has been going on as long as it has," he said, "it is more than just a fund raiser, it's a tradition!"

Subs can also be ordered from any ORR Music Student or via the FORM website at www.form02739.org. If you have any further questions, please call Debra at 508-748-1822.

planning the senior dinner which will be held Saturday, April 18 at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church Hall. So, seniors don't forget to mark your calendars!

Also in the planning are the Harbor Days festivities which are held the third weekend of July. The club has great raffle prizes planned for this year including $1,000 in cash, a 50" HDTV, pairs of Red Sox and Patriots tickets and a $250 gas card — tickets will be on sale in the near future. Kudos go out to Bill Calusine who has volunteered to chair the raffle again this year.

The club's last meeting was an extremely interesting one as the guest speaker, Arthur Bennett, a retired teacher and assistant principal and vice president of Downtown New Bedford, Inc., brought many down memory lane with the history of downtown New Bedford in its heyday, to its struggle with the coming of the malls, to the revitalization of its seaport including, wine bars, fine restaurants, condominiums and succeeding in having the historic area declared a National Park.

Before the next meeting on Wednesday, January 28 at the Mattapoisett Chowder House, the club will be conducting an orientation at 5:30 pm for new members and existing members wishing to learn more about the history of the club and Lions Club International. Featured speakers will be Peter Hodges, club treasurer, and Don Correia, past District Governor. A regular meeting will follow.

Please make sure to visit them online at www.mattapoisettlionsclub.org. Anyone wishing to learn more about the Mattapoisett Lions Club may write to P.O. Box 1022, Mattapoisett, MA 02739, or call club President Joseph Rego at 508-763-8707.

Relay For Life is a fun-filled, overnight event that brings the tri-town area together to celebrate survivors (anyone who has ever been diagnosed with cancer), remember loved ones, commit to fight back against this disease, and raise money to assist in finding a cure for cancer.

Relay For Life is as much an awareness-raiser about the progress against cancer as it is a fundraiser. Individuals who are willing to give their time and energy to this exciting event, as a volunteer or participant, have made a commitment to fight back against this disease and let the community know that you, too, can beat cancer.

Volunteers are needed to organize and recruit teams, seek community support, coordinate logistics, find refreshments and prizes, plan entertainment and lend their support in any way.

Rochester Country Fair

Tired of winter? Think ahead to the summer as the Rochester Country Fair Committee prepares for its Tenth Annual Country Fair scheduled to take place August 19-23.

The committee is very excited to have achieved this milestone with the help of its community, supporting staff and numerous volunteers and have chosen a "Mardi Gras" theme to celebrate it!

Events and contests are still in the planning stages, but fair-goers should expect to see some spectacular floats, great costumes and music to go along with its already popular old-fashion events.

To help raise money during these difficult times, the fair will hold its Annual Dinner Dance at the Redmen Hall in Wareham on Saturday, March 7. Tickets to the

What happened at Marion Family Chiropractic in 2008?

A baseball player who missed most of his college season with shoulder pain pitched successfully for the Gatemen.

A teen with scoliosis who was told he had a "100% chance" of having spinal surgery no longer needs it.

A 40-something year old truck driver who was told he would need a hip replacement is now completely free of hip pain and walking normally.

After years of visits to specialists, MRI's, and prescriptions, a woman gets relief from chronic migraines through chiropractic adjustments.

A toddler who had night terrors now sleeps peacefully — as does the rest of her family!

A man's jaw pain that made it difficult for him to eat, causing dangerously unhealthy weight loss, is resolved.

A child who previously had low immune system function has not missed a day of school this year.

A woman with acute knee pain who arrives on crutches walks out of the office.

Another child with chronic ear infections is now healthy.

An elderly neighbor with acute back and leg pain and muscle spasms, who had been told she would just have to "live with it" "because that's part of getting old" is now pain free.

Why did all of these different things happen to real people while under care at Marion Family Chiropractic?

A specific chiropractic adjustment opens the path from your brain to your body, so you live the way you should.

Marion Art Center

Sylvia

Rehearsals are now underway for Marion Art Center's upcoming production of Sylvia. Written by A.R. Gurney (who also penned the Marion Art Center's 2007 winter production, Later Life), this dramedy examines the struggles encountered by the long-term marriage of mid-lifers Greg and Kate when a third party becomes involved. What makes this love triangle especially compelling is the fact that the third party — the fun, frisky, devoted Sylvia — is a dog.

While Greg is totally besotted by Sylvia, his wife Kate is anything but, and the evolution of the relationships between Greg, Sylvia and Kate is both comical and intense, and makes for a terrific theater experience. In the role of Greg, the disenchanted investment banker whose midlife crisis takes an unexpectedly canine turn, is Norris Brown of Bourne. Rochester's Nancy Sparklin plays Kate, a woman who is embracing her middle age transition with a new job teaching Shakespeare to inner city youth. Portraying the three roles of Greg's dog park pal Tom, Kate's Vassar pal Phyllis, and couples counselor Leslie is Taunton's Paul Kandarian, and in the title role of spunky mutt Sylvia is Kimberly Teves of Marion.

MAC theatergoers will remember this quartet of veteran actors from last year's production of A Curious Savage, as well as the previous year's Later Life.

Sylvia will run Friday and Saturday March 6 and 7 at 8:00 pm, Sunday March 8 at 2:00 pm, and Friday and Saturday March 13 and 14 at 8:00 pm. Admission is $12 for MAC members and $15 for non-members, and tickets may be reserved by calling the Marion Art Center at 508-748-1266.

Tibetan children. Curator Kara Linn traveled to Tibet with a variety of art supplies and introduced some children to the concept of making pictures — an activity they had never experienced. The results of her teaching and their exploration of talent will be on display through February 27. The official title of the show is “Tibetan children: Turning the pages of history to a new chapter of peace.”

“I have been fortunate to have had the opportunity to visit Dharamsala, India twice — once in June, 2007 and again one year later,” Ms. Linn said. “Dharamsala is the location of a large Tibetan Expatriate community, home of the Tibetan Government In-Exile and His Holiness the Fourteenth Dalai Lama.”

“My first visit focused on teaching a group of Tibetan orphans from the Tibetan Children’s Village how to paint,” she added. “The end result was 32 framed paintings reflecting the children’s visions of Tibet, their values and their hopes for the future. During my second visit, I organized a second project with another group of Tibetan students at the same school. This project consisted of pairs of student artists and student writers who together produced correlating stories and illustrations that convey the importance of hope in their lives and within the Tibetan situation as a whole.”

The Marion Art Center is located at the corner of Main and Pleasant Streets in Marion. Gallery hours are Tuesday through Friday, 1:00 to 5:00 pm, and Saturdays, 10:00 am to 2:00 pm.

WINTER OF DISCONTENT

As sub-freezing temperatures set in last weekend, sure signs of a cold New England winter could be found throughout Mattapoisett. Clockwise from above, the Roundabout and Dartmouth Rescue icebound at the Mattapoisett Wharf; single digits slowed things down at Tub Mill Brook in Mattapoisett; docks from the Mattapoisett Town Beach and Wharf stacked and stored for winter; Serene trapped in the ice at the Mattapoisett Town Wharf; while Kenny Pimental, Randy Tanque, Zach Ruscik and George Quirk of Fairhaven didn't let temperatures in the teens stop them from an aggressive game on the frozen Acushnet Road cranberry bogs in Mattapoisett.

All you need to do is give one weekday per month. You give the Director your name and telephone number. You just tell him what day of the week (Monday through Friday) you would be able to volunteer your time. Then when your day comes up, if any calls come through for someone needing a ride to the doctor, you just go through your driver volunteer list and find that person a ride.

Help is desperately needed. Please contact Jack McGill at 508-758-3542 with your name, phone number, and which day of the month you could volunteer.

Your help is greatly appreciated. This is such a needed service in Mattapoisett. There are many people who do not drive and have no other way of getting to their doctor's appointments.

MOVIE REVIEW

Odd Couple

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Revolutionary Road. Starring Leonardo DiCaprio and Kate Winslet. Directed by Sam Mendes. Running time: 119 minutes. MPAA rating: R.

If there's any unifying theme in the director Sam Mendes' work, it's disappointment. The morose father-son power games in Road to Perdition; the soldiers who don't get to see the combat they crave in Jarhead; and of course Kevin Spacey's suburban malaise in American Beauty. To be an American man, according to Mendes, is to settle for less. Revolutionary Road, Mendes' new film, based on Richard Yates' acclaimed but (until this adaptation) all but forgotten novel, is almost a proto-American Beauty. Once again, an American couple withers and dies inside the empty life demanded of them by the great suburban premise: Everyone's the same, everyone's pleasant, nobody rocks the boat or wants more than the job, the marriage, the children, the nice house.

What's the point now, though, of adapting Yates' closely observed novel? Yates meant to bemoan the '50s-era conformity of a nation born in tumult and revolt — hence the book's ironic title. There's little of Yates' wit in the movie (written for the screen by Justin Haythe), and that's not all that's missing. In the book, a day or so after a typical fight between youngish couple Frank (Leonardo DiCaprio) and April Wheeler (Kate Winslet), the pair's two children want to help Frank lay a stone path in the front yard. Their presence annoys Frank, who eventually snaps at them, sending them crying to April. This scene isn't in the movie, and the kids barely are either. They're conveniently absent a lot of the time so that Frank and April can go at each other in ferocious spats that play for all the world like acting workshops.

April proposes that they tear themselves away from deadening suburbia and move to Paris — Frank hates his job anyway, and it might be fun for April to bring home the bacon for a change while Frank thinks about what he really wants to do with his life. But you know what they say about how to make the gods laugh. As it goes on, Revolutionary Road starts to feel like a tepid rewrite of a Douglas Sirk weepie, without Sirk's blend of soap opera and just plain opera — the suffering in his films was outsized, Wagnerian. The people here just seem petulant, and despite the histrionics of DiCaprio (this isn't his best work) and Winslet (who gets one of those patented contemptuous laughing jags — it almost derails her entire performance) the Wheelers are never much more than abstract sketches of conformist angst.

What worked and was funny in the novel is near-unplayable onscreen. I'm thinking of a scene with Kathy Bates as the twittering mother of a mental case (Michael Shannon, too aware he's got a scene-stealing role); when the nutjob — the movie's only voice of reason, get it? — starts spouting off, Bates springs up and starts nattering on about the window view, which is in the book, but here it sounds like amateur theater. Every so often, Thomas Newman sadly tickles the ivories on the soundtrack, clueing us in that this is a great tragedy; the movie is a throwback not to '50s melodrama but to some of the more self-important Oscar bait of the '80s.

If I felt for anyone in the film, it's poor Shep Campbell (David Harbour), who often invites the Wheelers over for drinks with him and his wife Milly (Kathryn Hahn). Shep has his own thoughts about the Wheelers' Paris trip, and the blockishly handsome Harbour, who would've looked at ease in a Sirk weeper, communicates more outlaw yearning than DiCaprio or Winslet are allowed. The movie ends exactly as the book does, except that in Yates it had a caustic tang in keeping with the rest of the prose, whereas here it just seems misogynistic. Mendes tries to paint as much without words as he can — the image of an obviously slept-on couch speaks volumes — but the movie is, like the Wheelers' lives, well-appointed but hollow. It turns out there was a reason nobody made a film out of Revolutionary Road for so many years: the book is the prose, the voice, the viewpoint. Take that away and you have squabbling and clichés.

A joint venture between The Wanderer weekly newspaper and Old Rochester Community Television, Inc. (ORCTV), Tri-Town Topics is designed to bring timely and poignant issues to the residents of the three towns. Every episode will include a panel of three guests — one from each town — who will answer both live call-in questions and those that have been submitted in writing.

Questions for the panelists can be submitted in one of three ways ...

- Online at www.tritowntopics.com;
- Mailed to: Tri-Town Topics, The Wanderer, P.O. Box 102, Mattapoisett, MA 02739; or
- Called in "live" between 7:00 and 7:30 PM on Thursday, February 5 at 508-748-1600.

ond and fourth Tuesday of the month until 6:00 pm.

Please call the office if you have any questions.

- 2009 Census - Each household should be receiving a Town census form within the next few weeks. Please look it over carefully, make any additions, corrections or deletions necessary, sign and return to this office as soon as possible. If you are a registered voter, non-response to census may result in removal from the active voting list.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Although you're getting kudos and other positive reactions to your suggestions, don't let the cheers drown out some valid criticisms. Better to deal with them now than later.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Following your keen Bovine intuition pays off, as you not only reassess the suggestions some people are putting in front of you, but also their agendas for doing so.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You continue on a high-enthusiasm cycle as that new project you've assumed takes shape. You're also buoyed by the anticipation of receiving some good news about a personal matter.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your eagerness to immerse yourself in your new assignment is understandable. But be careful that you don't forget to take care of that pressing personal situation as well.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) This is a good time to learn a new skill that could give a clever Cat an edge in the upcoming competition for workplace opportunities. Enjoy the arts this weekend with someone special.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You could risk creating an impasse if you insist on expecting more from others than they're prepared to give. Showing flexibility in what you'll accept could prevent a stalemate.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Although you can weigh all factors of a dispute to find an agreeable solution for others, you might need the skilled input of someone you trust to help you deal with an ongoing situation of your own.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) The good news is that your brief period of self-doubt turns into a positive "I can do anything" attitude. The better news is that you'll soon be able to prove it.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) This is a good time for Sagittarians to start making travel plans while you can still select from a wide menu of choices and deals, and not be forced to settle for leftovers.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Like your zodiacal sign, the sure-footed Goat, you won't allow obstacles in your path to keep you from reaching your goal. Don't be surprised by who asks to go along with you.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Let your head dominate your heart as you consider the risks that might be involved in agreeing to be a friend's co-signer or otherwise act as his or her backup in a financial matter.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Prioritize: Resolve to close the door and let your voice mail take your phone calls while you finish up a task before the end-of-week deadline. Then go out and enjoy a fun-filled weekend.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your capacity for care and compassion helps to bring comfort to others.

DIFFICULTY THIS WEEK: ★★

★ Moderate ★★ Challenging
★★★ HOO BOY!

February 2, therefore, taxpayers should allow sufficient time for mail travel when mailing payments. If paying by personal online banking, taxpayers should allow sufficient time for the bank to generate a check and mail it to the Town; and they should make sure there is sufficient information on the check identifying which bill should be credited with the payment. The Tax Collector's Office is open for business Monday through Friday from 8:30 am to 3:30 pm.

According to state statute, failure to receive a tax bill does not relieve the taxpayer of the requirement to pay the tax bill and any resulting penalties and interest if the payment is late. Interest accrues at a rate of 14 percent per annum on bills not paid by the due date. It is the property owner's responsibility to insure taxes are paid on time and in full.

Please call the Tax Collector's Office at 508-758-4100, extension 1 for questions regarding payments. Questions regarding property values and abatements should be directed to the Assessors' Office at 508-758-4100, extension 3.

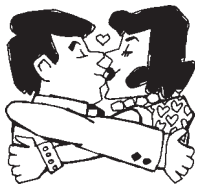

Marion Taxes Due

Marion Tax Collector Gary J. Carreiro would like to remind residents that the third quarter Fiscal Year 2009 Actual Real Estate and Personal Property Tax Bills are due Monday, February 2, 2009. Taxpayers may make payments online at www.townofmarion.org through eBill having their payments directly withdrawn from their checking or savings account or alternately mailing their payments to the Town of Marion, 2 Spring Street, Marion, MA 02738, or by making payments directly at the Marion Town House, Monday through Thursday from 8:00 am to 4:30 pm and on Friday from 8:00 am to 3:30 pm.

If you are unable to locate your third quarter payment coupon, please call the Tax Collector's office for the amount due.

According to Massachusetts General Law, failing to receive a tax bill does not relinquish the requirement to pay the tax bill which will result in penalties, charges and interest for late payment. Please contact the Tax Collector's office at 508-748-3504 or 508-748-3506 with any ques-

ATTENTION DRIVERS

If you are involved in a collision you have the right to have your investment, your vehicle, repaired at a shop of your choice. Your insurance company may suggest a list of repair shops. Do not be persuaded by this list, it is not a guarantee of quality of services, nor does it limit your options. You want a shop who will work for you and with you to put your vehicle back to pre-accident condition. COLLISION SERVICES OF MARION, INC. is a licensed, bonded, registered repair shop with the state of Massachusetts. We work with all insurance companies to expedite your repairs. The important thing to remember is we repair the vehicle for you, our customers, not the insurance companies. So remember, if the need arises, contact COLLISION SERVICES OF MARION, INC. to get back on the road.

2009 Dog Licenses are also now available at the Town Clerk's office. Please stop by or use the application which will be with the Annual Street List form making sure to read the instructions carefully as incomplete applications will be returned. Rochester Police Exam

The Rochester Police Department in conjunction with Law Enforcement Dimensions has scheduled an Entrance Exam for the Rochester Police Department on January 24, 2009.

The Rochester Police Department employs 10 full-time officers and five part-time officers serving a population of approximately 5,400 residents. The department will be holding an entrance exam to fill both full- and part-time openings expected in the coming months.

Because of the small size of the department, officers handle many of their own cases from start to finish. This allows officers the opportunity to participate in investigations, write and serve warrants, and make arrests as a result of their own work.

Rochester police officers also have the opportunity to participate on a number of the departments specialized units such as bike patrol and ATV patrol as well as being able to join specialized units such as the dive team, rapid response team, and search and rescue team attached to the Southeastern Massachusetts Law Enforcement Council (SEMLEC).

Details and eligibility requirements are provided on the Law Enforcement Dimensions website: www.ledimensions.com/rochester. If there is a specific question that has not been addressed there, submit an e-mail to info@ledimensions.com. Any calls made directly to the police department or Law Enforcement Dimensions, may disqualify you from being hired.

Perhaps you know someone who is thinking of getting involved in law enforcement. This is a great opportunity for them to participate in the entry level testing process and possibly earn a career in law enforcement.

If you or anyone you know would like further information on this upcoming exam, please visit www.ledimensions.com/rochester. All registrations must be done online.

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

Each time you find the Aardvark you will also be entered in our monthly drawing for other cool Aardvark Prizes.

If you would like to enter the monthly drawing by mail, send your name, address and phone number along with the issue date and page number you found him in to: Wanderer - I Found the Aardvark, P.O. Box 102, Mattapoissett, MA 02739. Entries by mail will not be eligible for Aardvark Points.

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on "I Found the Aardvark"
